

CAROLINA COACH PICKING HIS MEN

Works Out Candidates Daily With View to Selecting Varsity Team.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Chapel Hill, N. C., March 12.—With the first game of the season in Chapel Hill, with Oak Ridge, only one week off, Coach Clancy is getting some pretty definite ideas as to the men who will make up the varsity line-up. He has been working the first and second squads against each other in practice games all the week. Friday afternoon he expressed himself well satisfied with the progress the men had made.

Clancy has been working four pitchers besides Pember, Sloan, Lee, Chambers and Winston. These men are young, but are considered as safe bets to come. Sloan has a pretty good curve, but at times the varsity hitters land on his fast ball. When he was in the position of catcher, he was considered as a safe bet to come. Sloan has a pretty good curve, but at times the varsity hitters land on his fast ball. When he was in the position of catcher, he was considered as a safe bet to come.

The outfield positions are as yet the most uncertain of the nine, with the exception of Captain Hackett, at center, where he is holding well up to the standard of his work last year. When he was in the position of catcher, he was considered as a safe bet to come. Sloan has a pretty good curve, but at times the varsity hitters land on his fast ball. When he was in the position of catcher, he was considered as a safe bet to come.

The variety infield is looked upon as a settled matter so far as the line-up is concerned, and it is only a question of how smoothly the four men will work together. The two men who are sure to play are Hackett and Hackett. When he was in the position of catcher, he was considered as a safe bet to come. Sloan has a pretty good curve, but at times the varsity hitters land on his fast ball. When he was in the position of catcher, he was considered as a safe bet to come.

V. P. I. CLAMS CHAMPION QUINT

Team Won Eleven Games, Scoring 554 Points Against 209 for Its Opponents.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Bucksport, Me., March 12.—V. P. I. basketball team, during the season which has just closed, had an extremely successful year, winning the intercollegiate championship of the State.

Out of a dozen games played, the team came out victorious in eleven of the twelve, splitting even with the Lynchburg Y. M. C. A., the strongest V. P. I. team in the State. The team has not been defeated by a college team during the past two seasons, nor have they ever met defeat on their home floor.

Only three families are represented on the quint. The Hughes brothers, the Legge brothers and Keating composed the team. The team owes much of its success to the efficient coaching of J. Branch Bowcock.

The scores of the various games were as follows:
V. P. I. 47; Randolph-Macon, 42.
V. P. I. 43; Emory and Henry, 29.
V. P. I. 27; Emory and Henry, 11.
V. P. I. 65; Roanoke College, 9.
V. P. I. 58; University of Tennessee, 20.
V. P. I. 62; Roanoke College, 8.
V. P. I. 29; Lynchburg Y. M. C. A., 26.
V. P. I. 55; Hampden-Sydney, 8.
V. P. I. 26; Lynchburg Y. M. C. A., 35.
V. P. I. 27; Washington and Lee, 20.
V. P. I. 25; Washington and Lee, 18.
V. P. I. 42; Washington and Lee, 22.

The result of the season shows 554 points scored by V. P. I. against 209 for opponents.

A FEW BRIEFS FROM FANVILLE

Signed Contract of Charlie Schaeffer's Protege Has Been Received by Sullivan.

BY GUS MALBERT.

Saturday furnished a splendid opportunity for Sullivan to corral his pets and give them a chance to un-burden themselves. It was really the first day he has had since arriving, and he took excellent advantage of it. Bunting, running, with few heaves, furnished the program of amusement. Cowan, Baker, Walker and a few others made up the party.

Cowan, by the way, looks like the goods for keeps this year. He is certainly pegging better than he ever did before, and appears to have more life. If he keeps the gait he has been showing, he will not stay in Richmond after this season. As for Baker, he is just as fast as he was last year, and is not handicapped by illness, as he was during the season of 1910.

Sullivan is getting down to good work. He has worked off much of the fat of the winter months, and is coming around like a youngster. His whip is something to be proud of, and if he keeps it up, he will be a first string man and a first string pitcher. Sullivan has a safe lead on all the candidates for catcher.

RANDOLPH-MACON COLLEGE LOSSES TO TOWN NINE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Ashland, Va., March 12.—Manager Macdonald's Ashland baseball team easily defeated the Randolph-Macon College team in an exhibition game, Saturday afternoon, 7 to 1.

The score follows:
Score: Randolph-Macon, 7; R. M. C., 1.
Batteries: Ashland—Trevelian, Blanton and Brown; R. M. C.—Rhoades, Douglas, Sherry, Jordan and Barrie.

SOPHOMORES WIN GAME FROM FIGHTING JUNIORS

The juniors and sophomores played a game of basketball Saturday at Richmond College, the latter winning by a score of 10 to 2. The weather was clear and a large crowd was on hand to witness the contest. King and Beale did the honors for the sophomores, while Welsh, Lefew and O'Neill were the better of the argument. The feature of the game was a home run by Welsh. Following is the score by innings:
Innings: 1-0 2-0 3-0 4-0 5-0 6-0 7-0 8-0 9-0 10-0 11-0 12-0.
Batteries: Ashland—Trevelian, Blanton and Brown; R. M. C.—Rhoades, Douglas, Sherry, Jordan and Barrie.

Orth Declines Offer.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Lynchburg, Va., March 12.—Al Orth has just turned down a very attractive offer to coach the baseball squad of the Hampden-Sydney College. A representative of that institution spent a half-day here endeavoring to induce Orth to take the squad, but Orth declined to be enticed away from his business.

GAME NOT INTERRUPTED.
Attorney Falls to Find Officers to Stop Sunday Baseball Exhibition.
Hot Springs, Ark., March 12.—When Prospector Alvin J. B. Wood was scouting for officers to arrest the Sunday ball game scheduled between the major league teams here, he could not find a county or town officer anywhere. As a result, the game was not interrupted.

The heat was the feature of the game this afternoon between the Brooklyns and All-Stars, as a home run, triple and two singles in four times secured a victory for the Brooklyns. A representative of the Brooklyns announced to-night the Brooklyns team was now ready to play ball, and that no more hard practice games would be taken on during the remainder of the stay here.

The team leaves here Thursday for an engagement with the Memphis Southern League team.
Score by Innings:
Innings: 1-0 2-0 3-0 4-0 5-0 6-0 7-0 8-0 9-0 10-0 11-0 12-0.
Batteries: Schardt, Atchison, Ryan and Hackett; Ryan, Bell, Rucker, Miller and Bergen.

REAL BALL GAME AT PARK WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

A game of baseball will be played Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at Broad Street Park between the Medical College of Virginia and the Union Theological Seminary. Both are said to be in good condition and a merry contest is promised.

AMUSEMENTS

"East Lynne"
Lubin—Vaudeville.

"A Charming Fibber"
Adelaide Thurston, with a new play by a new author and under a new management, will be the attraction at the Academy Saturday, matinee and night.

The play is "Miss Ananias," the author Catherine Chisholm Cusick, and the managers, who are new only as far as Miss Thurston is concerned, are Cohen and Harris.

"Miss Ananias" is a comedy dealing with a lie. Whether the lie is justifiable or not remains to be seen. Of course, Miss Thurston is the liar, and she will prove to be a very attractive, as well as a very innocent, slender, goes without saying. The play, though the fact that it was a hit in every city where Miss Thurston has presented her new comedy seems to indicate that "Miss Ananias" is the best play which this delightful star has ever been provided with, and that her supporting company is one of the best on the road this season.

"The Round-Up"
Klaw & Erlanger's production of "The Round-Up," which comes to the Academy March 20, 21 and 22, is in four acts, with the scenes laid in Southwestern Arizona. It is claimed that the play is a "gun play," although the scenes are very visible, and the third act shows a battle between cowboys, soldiers and Indians that is said to be the most realistic night ever shown on the stage.

The claim that "The Round-Up" is not merely a "gun play" is based on its story, which is declared to be a true story, and full of human interest. The piece is a massive production, and in the battle scene a band of thirty-two and twenty cow ponies and two Gatling guns are used.

Richmond Girl to Play.
That the city of Richmond is well represented in the profession is again evidenced by the fact that Miss Cora Virginia Snell, who will appear here as the leading lady of "East Lynne" at the Hackett Theatre, is a Richmond girl.

Miss Snell is a direct descendant of John Quincy Adams, of the well known Caldwell family, of Virginia, and is the daughter of the great Maude Adams, of dramatic fame.

Giants Shut Out Port Worth.
New York, March 12.—The New York Giants regularly hit the ball freely this afternoon, and shut out the Port Worth Texas League club by the score of 13 to 0.

SIMON NICHOLS DEAD.
Captain of Baltimore League Team Succumbs to Typhoid.
Baltimore, Md., March 12.—Simon Nichols, star pitcher of the Baltimore Eastern League baseball club, died at a hospital here to-day, after a short illness, which was typhoid fever, and a complication of pneumonia.

Prior to coming to Baltimore, Nichols played successfully with the Philadelphia Southern League and Philadelphia American League clubs.

MIGHTY HAL CHASE AND HIS AMERICANS IN RICHMOND

Manager Hal Chase, of the New York Americans, and a dozen of his squad, who have been working out their kinks at Hot Springs, flowered under the sheds of Main Street Station for a few hours yesterday morning on their way to the training grounds at Athens, Georgia, where in the next day or two there will be a college football game between the husky youngsters from whom the mighty Hal hopes to draw the best aggregation that ever wore "N. Y." on an American League uniform.

Chase, who has reached the topmost rung of the ladder of fame in one calling or another, Manager Chase, whom every one calls the best man that ever wore a first-base-man's mitt, is as modest a man as ever pulled a baseball play or stole a base. Since he took the place of Stallings as manager of the New York Americans, he has also become conservative. He is enthusiastic enough about his men and the prospect for the team, but yet cautious about the future. He has a hook the positive statement that some managers in various parts of the country are making, concerning pennants and world's championships. And for this very reason his earnest talk about "doing the job right" inspires you almost to bank on the fact that he will land the team somewhere nearby near the top.

"Time Will Tell."
Of course, said Chase on the team's private excursion to Hot Springs yesterday, "It is far too early for me or any one else to say anything definite about the team we are going to get out. Among the lot there are several old ones whose records stand for themselves, and then there are some new ones that look good. Nevertheless, one can never tell until they have been tried out and are up against real baseball. One of the veterans to whom we are looking this season is Jack Quinn, who formerly made such an excellent record with the Richmond team in the Virginia League. I consider him one of the best pitchers on my staff and, in fact, one of the best in the league, though he has at times played hard luck. I understand that he was called the lucky man in the Virginia League, and a return of this, I think, will be his." "Time Will Tell."

WILL URGE EFFICIENT CONSULAR SERVICE

Business Men of Country to Demand Legislation That Will Result in Expanding Foreign Trade of United States.

Washington, March 12.—The business men of the country are preparing to demand of Congress that Secretary of State Knox be given the tools and the means to keep them sharp for the work of expanding the foreign trade of the United States. This is to be done through an efficient and wide-awake consular service.

The business men, who are unanimous in their demand for a consular service, are pointing at Congress for legislation that will make the consular service a service in which promotion can be gained by the meritorious business men, who are seeking foreign markets, and the consular service, made up of men appointed through political favor, is of no use whatsoever in the light of the American manufacturer for the world's market.

Concentrated attack is to be made upon the members of the Sixty-second Congress, which convenes April 4, by commercial bodies throughout the country, and consular reform legislation is to be demanded. The business men of the country have long appreciated the fact that a trained consular service, energetically directed, is of vital importance to them in seeking foreign markets, and the consular service, made up of men appointed through political favor, is of no use whatsoever in the light of the American manufacturer for the world's market.

No Hazard to Politics.
Since 1906 the consular service has been conducted on a non-political basis. Candidates for examination have been designated from all sections, it being a strict rule never to inquire into the political affiliations of any candidate. Since that time issued, the law has been extended for the consular service 350 persons, of which 160 have passed. Of this number 111 have been appointed. In the past five years, thirty-two men have been appointed to the grade of consul from the Northern States, and thirty-one from the Southern States. No effort has been spared by the Department of State in attempting to interest all sections of the country in the service.

Secretary of State Knox, backed by President Taft, is striving for legislation that will make permanent the divorce of politics from the service. Competition in appointment, a merit system, the result of an executive order of former President Roosevelt, will be the basis of the new system.

What is demanded is a law that will keep the politicians from governing the consular body, and make appointments in payment of political debts.

"The work for the diplomatic service," said President Taft in discussing the service's need for legislation to make the consular system operative by law, "is devoid of partisanship; its importance should appeal to every American citizen, and should receive the generous consideration of Congress."

Improvement in Service.
"The excellent results which have attended the partial application of civil service principles to the diplomatic and consular services are an earnest indication of the benefit to be brought by a wider and more permanent extension of the civil service to the service. The marked improvement in the service during the four years since the principle of the civil service was applied in a limited way, and the good results already noticeable from a similar application of civil service principles to the diplomatic service a year ago, convince me that the enactment of the general principle of the existing executive regulations could not fail to effect further improvement in the consular service. By its assurance of permanency of tenure and promotion on merit an incentive to the country's best young men into service and an incentive to those already in to put forth their best efforts to attain and maintain that degree of efficiency which the interests of our international relations and commerce demand."

Needs of Good Men.
Director Carr, of the consular service, in a statement upon the needs of good men to begin at the bottom and work up to places of importance, said: "The larger phase of our international relations is the consular service. If they are to be dealt with successfully, the greater the skill and the greater the character of the consular officers, the more successful will they be in dealing with these questions and the more the benefit which the country will derive from their efforts. International questions which confront this country to-day are not to be considered in the light of the past, but in the light of the future, and the more the consular service is expected to deal with these questions, the more the skill and the character of the consular officers will be of importance."

Dr. Aked Accepts CALIFORNIA CALL
Rockefeller's Pastor Will Go to Congregational Church in San Francisco.

New York, March 12.—The Rev. Charles F. Aked, D. D., submitted a written statement to the members of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church to-day in explanation of his acceptance of a call to the First Congregational Church in San Francisco.

"To you who know the facts," he said, "the stories about dissension and quarrel and such like are merely foolish. From the moment I came to these shores four years ago until the moment when I read my statement last Sunday, there has been no quarrel between me and any member of the church. I am resigning the pastorate here because I believe I can do better work elsewhere."

Dr. Aked added that he had had "three suggestions from England, one from the American member of fellowship with the American churches." Dr. Aked requested that his resignation be accepted as early as possible, and the assistant pastor, Dr. Addison Moore, said to-day that action on the matter probably would be taken next Wednesday evening.

"REGULARS" DEFEATED.
Detroit "Yanigans" Win Sunday Game by Score of 18 to 11.
Montreal, La., March 12.—Detroit "Yanigans" defeated the "Regulars" here to-day in the second exhibition game of the season by the score of 18 to 11. The game was marked by unusually heavy hitting, and errors were plentiful on both sides.

The "Yanigans" are to fight for a series of games in the Cotton States circuit. The regulars will leave Tuesday for a series of games in New Orleans, Mobile and Montgomery with Southern League teams.

Commonwealth of Virginia, Richmond, Va., March 12.—A statement made by C. B. Garrett, general manager of the Virginia Democratic League, that one of the purposes of the organization is to clean up Norfolk county and defeat County Clerk Alvin H. Martin for re-election, Mr. Martin says:

"I am a native-born people of Norfolk county feel entirely competent to manage their own local affairs, and I am further of the opinion that they have pride enough to resent any outside and gratuitous interference with what concerns them."

BURTON INQUIRY WILL BE RESUMED

Subcommittee to Go Into Charges Affecting City Engineer's Office.

The subcommittee on investigation of the Burton charges against the City Engineer's Department will meet this afternoon at 4:30, when it is expected that the examination of a number of contractors will be gone into. The committee consists of Messrs. Vanderlehr, Miller and Gunst. City Engineer Collins, in a public card, has replied to certain statements made by the attorneys for Mr. Burton at a former meeting of the committee, acknowledging that some errors occurred, but asserting that they were caught and corrected in his own office, before Mr. Burton brought the matter to the attention of the Mayor.

Mr. Bolling denies that any injustice has been done to any contractor, and offers an explanation in the matter of the pen and ink interlineations referred to by Mr. Burton at the former meeting, showing that the printed specifications were amended by his own direction, in conformity with action of the Committee on Streets. Mr. Bolling desires to ask each of the contractors bidding on this class of work whether any mistake they secured specifications from the city had been made, and if so, whether that interlineation was not made, since they were ordered to be changed.

Furnishing Stone.
The controversy over whether the city or the contractor was to furnish stone, which at the last meeting seemed to be of some importance, especially in view of the statement of Contractor Maynard that the city had always furnished him stone, was without result. The bond issue in the annexed territory, where there is no curbing or guttering, and that therefore, in many instances, an iron grating has been placed over the brick stacks, the street basin and guttering, to be added when the curbing is laid.

Justice to Mr. Bolton.
While appreciating the action of Chairman Vanderlehr in suggesting that the name of the late assistant, should be kept out of the discussion, Mr. Bolling thinks that, in view of the turn the inquiry has taken, it will be necessary to go into some detail to arrive at the facts, and in justice to the name of Mr. Bolton, as it is his belief that at least some of the mistakes in calculation and other obvious errors which have been attributed to Mr. Bolton, as being in fact the work of assistants. It is regarded as important that the committee should have before it the exact facts and records of the transactions in question, and file a report with the Committee on Streets.

Loaded Ball May BE ABOLISHED
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Buffalo, N. Y., March 12.—The board of governors of the National Bowling Association to-day referred to a committee of three the question of abolishing the loaded or "do do" ball. The members of the committee are William Corbett, of Brooklyn, E. W. Pierson, Newark, N. J., and F. J. Maier, of Rochester, N. Y.

A committee was also named to investigate bowling conditions at Washington, D. C., where the next tournament is likely to be held.

WILL NOT TALK WITH INSURGENTS

Roosevelt Denies That He Is to Meet Representatives of Mexicans.

San Antonio, Texas, March 12.—Colonel Roosevelt will not talk with any representative of the Mexican insurgents during his trip through Texas. He made this statement to the press to-day, because of rumors that have gained circulation reporting that a conference of some sort had been arranged by friends of the insurgents. The colonel declared the report was "absurd."

It is true, however, that a request for a hearing during his journey along the southern border of the United States was conveyed to the colonel at Oyster Bay, at the desire of insurgent adherents. It met with prompt and unqualified refusal. His statement to-day was his first utterance during the present trip on this subject.

At Houston the colonel spoke to an audience of 10,000 people present in the big auditorium, and was given a rousing reception. He talked for more than an hour, devoting his attention for the most part to good citizenship. In the course of his remarks Colonel Roosevelt gave his first public explanation of the present trip.

"I had long made up my mind," he said, "that after coming back from my trip in Africa and Europe I wanted to have a chance to go around the country, and if possible, speak in each State, and to say 'Hello' to the people for a man who has been made President of the United States by the American people, and his obligation is to all the people."

Later, in his address the colonel referred to mob violence in this country, which he said always was taken up by the cynics of Europe, who believed that popular government must fail. He declared that the United States was regarded by down-trodden peoples of Europe as a land where governmental problems had been solved. When the American people permitted lawlessness, he said, they fell short of their duty to the nations of the world.

The colonel was called to the rear platform several times by the Houston and San Antonio people, but his stay here was devoted to rest at a hotel, after a motor ride in the moonlight.
